Dear Gary:

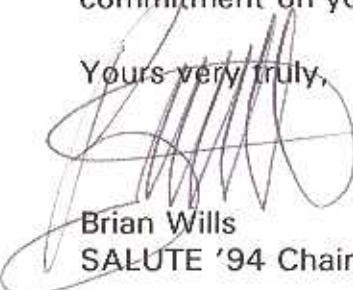

It was a number of years ago that Jack Hamilton, Bill Earle and a few other industry friends, sat around over a drink and envisioned an evening, whereby our industry could get together as one and recognize an individual whose efforts have truly made a difference to our business.

The SALUTE '94 Dinner and Award is just that evening and Jack Hamilton, a true ambassador of the industry, is just that kind of person.

On behalf of the Committee and all those involved in the organization, we would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support. Your observations, delivered from a slightly different perspective and as only you can, went a long way to making the evening a success and an extremely memorable one for Jack.

While getting up in front of a microphone may be easier for you than most, we do know your kind words didn't come without lots of thoughtful preparation and a time commitment on your part, and once again we thank you.

Yours very truly,

Brian Wills
SALUTE '94 Chairperson
